Dear PBA Students:

Please remember to turn in your cell phones to your homeroom teacher each morning. Students may not use their cell phones before, during or after school. Students who go to daycare or help class must turn in their cell phone to that teacher. Students who go to sports practice after school must turn in their cell phone to that coach.

Students who go on field trips or travel for any school event (including sports) must turn in their cell phones to the head coach or teacher on the trip. Students may only use their cell phones to call home to schedule transportation with parents. Students may not keep their cell phones during trips

Students are NOT allowed to bring IPODS to school. Students may not bring IPODS to afternoon sports practices. Students may not bring IPODS on any field trip (including traveling sports teams).

Students who do not follow these simple rules will earn a discipline referral and their device will be turned into the school office. These are well known PBA rules—they are not new and they have not changed. Please be careful and let God be glorified through your obedience.
